6. Refresh the data

7. The analytics should be refreshed by your data.

8. Save updated Analytics in your location.

From now on, every time you change data in the source directory and select refresh, the data will be updated. Be sure that the new downloaded csv files have the same names as above.

In case of data errors in Algocloud, which can sometimes occur due to the evolution of data registration by Algocloud, errors can usually be ignored.

For comments or requests on the analytics, please contact contact@algohubb.com.
